

We would like to invite all those who are interested in the fascinating knowledge and experience of Maharishi Aroma Therapy with the pure, highest quality VedAroma Essential Oils, and who would like to apply this knowledge as Maharishi Aroma Therapy Consultants or Experts in marketing the VedAroma Essential Oils.

Course Location

The workshop will take place in Provence, South of France, in a domaine called Orto de Prouvenço, located 1 hour east of Avignon. This area of High Provence is the main production area for lavender and its essential oils and offers the densest concentration and the largest variety of medicinal plants in Europe. Due to its outstanding beauty and its unique flora it has been declared by UNESCO to be a 'World Heritage of Mankind'.

Orto de Prouvenço with its 150 acres comprises 2 large mansions built in the typical style of Provence with 25 charming guest rooms (each with private bathroom) and offers ample space for seminars, workshops and conferences. The center has its own experimental distillery for aromatic plants.

The exquisite 'cuisine à la provençale,' which specialises in a wide variety of organic vegetarian dishes, contributes to the mental and physical welfare of the guests.

Date: 15 to 30 may 2010
(arrival on 15th, departure on 30th of May)

Course Location: Provence, South of France
(from Airport Marseille about 2 hours drive by car to the course location Orto de Prouvenço, Aurel)

Course Programme

You will experience the powerful effects of the pure, certified organic or wild harvested VedAroma essential oils, and learn how to apply them to greatly increase your physical, mental and emotional wellbeing, as well as promoting spiritual growth.

You will receive a wealth of interesting knowledge about essential oils, their properties and indications, their history, chemistry, and existing scientific research; you will experience live distillation of essential oils, and unique live EEG research with the VedAroma essential oils.

And you will learn how to conduct a Maharishi Aroma Therapy consultation and how to prescribe the appropriate essential oils and methods of application for balancing the Doshas and helping common (minor) health conditions.
